Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The phrase "dependent from above" is not clear.
3. Claims 21 and 22 recites the limitation "the jack" and "the arm". There is insufficient antecedent basis for these limitations in the claims. The applicant is behooved to review all of the claims for such lack of antecedent informalities. The applicant is urged to positively recite "the jack", for example a grand piano action comprising "a jack".

Claim Objections

4. Claims 21 and 22 are objected to because of the following informalities: The claims do not begin with a capital letter. Also, the claims have an improper preamble. For example the claims should recite "A Grand Piano...". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2837

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable
Dodds and Kimble.

Dodds et al discloses the use of a grand piano(column 4, lines 5-10)with a jack (26), a spring (38), and a friction reducer(39).

Dodds does not disclose the use of a knuckle.

Kimble discloses the use of a grand piano where friction is eliminated at the knuckle and the jack (column 2, lines 6-20).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the piano as disclosed by Dodds to include the knuckle as disclosed by Kimble in order to provide a device that requires fewer regulation adjustments over time.

7. Claims 1-20 and 23-37 are allowed.

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
